In-House Counsel Program

June 24–27, 2007

Sheraton Chicago Hotel

AMERICAN
HEALTH LAWYERS
ASSOCIATION

Program Highlights & Activities

Dear Colleagues:

Sinatra memorably crooned, "Chicago, Chicago that toddling town; Chicago, Chicago I'll show you around—I love it!" And you will be captivated by the architectural beauty and diverse offerings of the Windy City. Consistently recognized as one of the top four destination cities in the United States, Chicago is known for critically acclaimed restaurants, world-renowned museums and other spectacular cultural attractions, famed Magnificent Mile shopping, adventurous nightlife, action-packed sporting events and a thriving theater scene. In this setting, AHIA will hold the 2007 Annual Meeting on June 25-27th. The theme for this year's program is AHIA Chicago: Greatest Hits and New Tracks in recognition of the 40th anniversary of the Association.

The Annual Meeting will cover a broad range of substantive topics of interest to lawyers and other professionals who advise the healthcare industry. We are excited to have Atul Gawande, MD, MPH, New York Times best-selling author of Complications, as our keynote speaker who will explore how physicians strive to close the gap between best intentions and actual performance to deliver quality medical care and share his insights on the human aspect of medical decision-making which are discussed in his new book, Better. A special panel featuring Mark A. Kadzielski, Esq., Alice G. Gosfield, Esq., and Harold J. Bressler, Sr., Esq., will respond to Dr. Gawande's observations and offer the hospital, physician and regulatory perspectives on the challenges in minimizing medical errors. Following the keynote address, the popular Year in Review will highlight significant statutory, regulatory and case law developments and discuss their practical implications. The Programs Board Committee has worked extremely hard to ensure that the breakout sessions meet the "inbox standard" by addressing issues that you encounter in your daily practice. Additionally, we have asked all of the speakers to provide practical take-aways such as checklists, sample contract language and other forms that you can use to better serve your clients. There will be a number of advanced sessions, including case studies, by Health Lawyers Fellows who represent the Association's "Greatest Hits". Along with coverage of the usual health law issues, the program will feature "New Tracks" including The Disturbed Patient: Challenging Problems and Practical Solutions; The Legal and Practical Issues of Dealing with Substance Abuse in the Workplace; Legal Ethics: Compliance Counseling Amid Unpredictable Enforcement; Life Sciences: The New Frontier for Health Lawyers; and Potential Pitfalls in Providing CAM and Innovative Therapies. The fifteen Practice Groups also will be hosting luncheons throughout the Annual Meeting.

The Programs Board Committee has several social events planned that will afford you with an opportunity to network with your colleagues. The Welcome Reception on Sunday evening will provide a forum to connect with old friends as well as become acquainted with new colleagues. The Monday evening off-property reception will be held at the Art Institute of Chicago where AHIA attendees will have access to much of the Institute's extraordinary collection of art including the Impressionists and Post-Impressionists exhibits. On Tuesday evening, we will enjoy a private performance by Chicago's renowned improv comedy troupe, The Second City. During your leisure time, sample deep-dish pizza or other culinary favorites while exploring the Chicago Cultural Center, Navy Pier, Millennium Park, Adler Planetarium & Astronomy Museum, Shedd Aquarium, Field Museum of Natural History, Sears Tower Skydeck, Wrigley Field and many other Chicago attractions.

The Annual Meeting is the Association's most significant educational program of the year. On-going changes in the healthcare landscape resulting from financial, regulatory and technological pressures require health law practitioners to be generalists with near-specialist depth knowledge in a variety of practice areas and this year's breakout sessions will help you stay abreast of important health law developments. We hope you will plan to join us in Chicago to enjoy the unparalleled continuing legal education along with the company of your health lawyer colleagues!

Electronic health records and clinical systems create much more than data about patients. They also create "metadata" about the overall quality of care, such as the response of a provider to electronic alerts and adherence to clinical protocols. The increased availability of this information is likely to change the requirements of "pay for performance" programs and the landscape of liability assessments. This session will focus on issues that attorneys will wish they had raised with clients in advance, including:

- Use of responses to alerts and clinical tools as a sword or a shield in liability actions
- Metadata and its relationship to the patient's medical record
- How to reduce the risks of enhanced clinical tools, including unintended changes in the standard of care

MONDAY, JUNE 25 2:00–3:00 PM (not repeated)

Alice G. Gosfield

- The advent of Pay for Performance has drawn attention to the failure of the existing payment systems to produce optimal quality of care. Virtually all commentators recognize that while P4P is a good thing, it is likely not sustainable as a path to payment reform. This session will present a new payment model that will be piloted beginning in 2007. It is intended to improve clinical collaboration among providers, pay for the resources necessary to treat patients in accordance with evidence-based medicine and lower administrative burden. With an eye toward its specific audience, this session will also address contract amendments which will make the model real as well as appeals and potential liability issues. What PROMETHEUS Payments rewards, is what providers should be doing anyway in terms of better clinical collaboration for care.

If you have been asked to counsel clients on an issue that you could never have imagined, please email your story to Anne Hoover, Vice President of Programs, at ahoover@healthlawyers.org. ## About Chicago

Located in the heart of the United States, Chicago is the place where people come to do business. The city remains one of the most visited US destinations for business travel. Chicago is the center of the nation's rail and interstate highway systems, making it easily accessible on the road and rails for millions. Chicago's biggest transportation advantage is its air service. Chicago is more convenient and affordable to fly to and from than many other destinations in the country.

Once you get to Chicago, you will find getting around Chicago couldn't be simpler. You can fly in and ride to downtown quickly, safely and easily on the rapid transit rail lines for less than $2. Or, if you prefer you can take one of the 6,700 cabs.

Chicago runs generally in a north-south direction, with Lake Michigan forming its eastern edge and the Chicago River flowing through downtown. Two areas make up Chicago's central downtown: The Loop, so named for the elevated train circling this business and cultural district; and the famed Magnificent Mile, a one-mile stretch of North Michigan Avenue north of the river. Both areas offer numerous attractions and ample shopping.

Chicago offers 29 miles of beautiful shoreline lined with things to do. There are 22 miles of bike paths, 22 public beaches with lifeguards, Lincoln Park Zoo, Navy Pier, Millennium Park, 200 public golf courses, the Magnificent Mile with 460 shops on just eight city blocks, over 5,000 restaurants, ranging from the finest French cuisine and legendary steakhouses to ethnic fare from around the globe, world-famous Chicago pizza, 200 live theaters, the home of the blues and a mecca for jazz.

Chicago moves to a beat unlike any other American city. AHIA hopes you will join us in Chicago for the Annual Meeting and our 40th Anniversary Celebration and that you will take some time to enjoy Chicago's architecture, museums, cultural activities, sporting events, shopping and nightlife.

Arbitration Training Registration Form

One-Day Arbitration Training Program

June 24, 2007
Sheraton Chicago Hotel

A great opportunity exists to incorporate the special skills involved in arbitration into your practice of health law! We urge you to sign up now for our Arbitration Training Program. Go online for detailed information and to register: www.healthlawyers.org/ADRtraining.

Registration also by phone, fax or mail. Registration limited to 50 attendees on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Please note: No on-site registrations will be accepted.

Whether you will represent a client in arbitration or want to become an arbitrator, this one-day course will provide a foundation in techniques and theories of arbitration as participants review the practical elements of alternative dispute resolution through an in-depth examination of arbitration. The training provides:

- The process of an arbitration from case intake to award
- Current applicable arbitration law
- The legal and ethical issues in arbitration
- The challenges that AHIA arbitrators typically confront, including due process protocols, economic and billing issues, establishing terms of reference, and navigating challenges to the arbitral award

The training will be conducted by the internationally-recognized arbitrator and trainer, Jerry P. Roscoe, of JAMS.

Each registrant will be given a Certificate of Arbitration Training and will have the opportunity to sign up as an arbitrator in Health Lawyers' ADR Service. For those who request CLE credits for the program, a CLE Certificate will be mailed to them after the training session.
