

CUNY Law School: Technology and the Law - Social Media Ethics

New York, NY

February 20, 2019 | Events

Shawndra Jones, Senior Counsel, will guest lecture on social media ethics in a groundbreaking Technology and the Law course created through a partnership between the City University of New York School of Law and the New York State Bar Association.

The course, for second and third-year students at CUNY Law, will feature guest speakers with experience in cybersecurity, artificial intelligence, blockchain applications, privacy, social media, eDiscovery, biometrics, and algorithms.
