

NYSBA Bridging the Gap: Cyber Security – Who Owns Your “Personal” Emails and Social Media Data?

New York, NY

August 14, 2019 | Events

Shawndra Jones, Senior Counsel, will present "Cyber Security: Who Owns Your 'Personal' Emails and Social Media Data?" at the New York State Bar Association's (NYSBA) Bridging the Gap program.

With many companies maintaining Bring Your Own Device (BYOD) policies and with employees posting on social media as part of their job or sending personal emails using work or personal accounts, who actually owns “personal” email and social media data? And, to further complicate the matter, who owns information stored in the cloud? When the duty to preserve arises, to what extent might electronic data stored on personal devices by current or former employees be implicated? Privacy and information security issues and applicable ethics and privilege concerns that attorneys face will also be discussed.

For more information, please visit NYSBA.org.

People

Shawndra G. Jones
Member of the Firm
Social Media and the Workplace
New York
212-351-4663
sjones@ebglaw.com

Focus Areas

Services

Employment Compliance
Counseling

Privacy, Cybersecurity & Data
Asset Management

Social Media and the Workplace