Center of the biggest metro area in Ohio and 30th largest in the United States, Cincinnati ranks highly in the nation for quality of hospitals, percentage of population covered by health insurance, and overall quality of health care. Health care systems are also among the top employers in the Cincinnati area.

As the area's hospitals and health systems look ahead to the innovations and the new normal of a post-pandemic future, they rely on the attorneys of our Cincinnati office for counsel and representation in all aspects of health care law.
