The capital of Ohio and the 14th largest city in the United States, Columbus is the center of the fastest-growing economy in the Midwest. Its real estate market and tax environment have made Columbus an attractive place to run a business, and the city is the headquarters of some of the largest national brands in retail, financial services, and hospitality. Columbus is also home to health systems and research facilities at the forefront of innovation in health care and life sciences, including such areas as digital health and gene therapy.

The attorneys in our Columbus office cover all of the firm's practices, from health care, life sciences, and litigation to employment and workforce management, and they are grounded in the area through civic and cultural associations. Our attorneys in Ohio and throughout the firm are well positioned to support clients operating in this vibrant market.
