920 SW 6th Avenue
Suite 1200
Portland, OR 97204

The most populous city in Oregon, Portland has a robust health care ecosystem supporting world-class hospitals, leading research institutions, and innovative technologies. Moreover, the city's commitment to innovation and sustainability adds energy to the ever-evolving landscape of health care law.

Epstein Becker Green's Portland office consists of experienced health care and life sciences attorneys who are well versed in the intricacies of this dynamic industry and are dedicated to providing comprehensive legal solutions tailored to the specific challenges faced by health care clients in Portland and the Pacific Northwest. Additionally, our highly skilled employment, labor, and workforce management attorneys guide clients from health care and other industries through the challenges of maintaining a productive and engaged workforce while staying compliant with continually evolving labor and employment laws and regulations.
