The sprawling and diverse area around St. Petersburg, Florida, is home to a growing population of more than three million people.

Also booming is Florida's health care industry, with this specific area a health care innovation hub attracting many health care and entrepreneurial companies.

Attorneys in our St. Petersburg office anticipate developments from the federal government, including at the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services and other federal agencies, and at the state and local levels, that are of importance to our clients throughout Florida.

Businesses in Florida, whether domestic or international, and investors in the health care and information technology industries, look to our attorneys to provide innovative and strategic legal and business advice and highly effective litigation services.

With offices in St. Petersburg and Tampa, Epstein Becker Green is ready to serve you from both sides of the Bay.
